

LebensImpulse

Ganz • Einfach • Gut

Regina Wagner

Already at a young age, Regina discovered her medial skills, but her pronounced interest in the natural sciences lead her professionally to the chemistry first.

During her 7 professional years in the pharmaceutical industry, she did not only gain experience in the quality assurance & -control, but also in the proverbial chemistry between people. Already at an early age she was given staff responsibility and she was assigned to restructure various departments.

In 1993, she left the industry and followed her "inner calling". She learned thanks to various trainings in natural medicine and psychology various methods and techniques to support people holistically in their finding and healing processes in her own practice on a physical, mental and emotional level.

Since many years she is allowed to accompany people, companies and corporations to create new awareness towards more power, clarity, value orientation and sustained success. Personality and potential development, holistic energy and awareness trainings are key elements of her work.

"Love life and life will love you."